Nextiva IP Video Solutions

Nextiva IP video solutions provide the capabilities to enhance situational awareness and emergency management in enterprise and critical infrastructure; fraud detection and investigation in finance and banking; loss prevention and shrinkage in retail environments; and enhance sales, customer satisfaction, and operational efficiency.

Ranging from video management, physical security information management and video analytics software to intelligent network video recorders, IP cameras, wired and wireless encoders, and servers and storage, Nextiva IP video solutions allow customers to optimize investments by leveraging legacy video infrastructure to scale security systems with the growth of their organizations.

Built on an open, standards-based architecture, Nextiva readily integrates with other IT, security and business systems to help streamline deployment, lower total cost of ownership, ensure high availability and drive operational efficiency.

Airports and seaports, banks and financial institutions, cities and metropolitan areas, government institutions, hospitals, large corporations, petrochemical and utility companies, retail chains and supermarkets, and schools, colleges, and universities use Verint solutions to protect people, property and assets. In addition, these industries leverage the Nextiva portfolio to derive enhanced business intelligence — improving their operations and customer experience.
